1. Background Information

Following a judgment of the Constitutional Court and in the course of preparing laws, Belgium is interested in collecting information from other Member States on (i) admission / residence and (ii) guardianship related provisions for unaccompanied foreign- and (separately or not) EU- minors in vulnerable situations. Belgium is particularly interested in (1) the type and value of instruments containing the said provisions and (2) the distinction (or not) between texts dealing with unaccompanied foreign minors in vulnerable situations on the one hand and unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations on the other hand.

In Belgium, a vulnerable situation is defined as a situation assessed in the light of the rights recognized by the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child: that is to say, a minor who, because of his/her irregular administrative situation, unstable social situation, pregnancy, disability, weak physical or mental health, condition of victim of human trafficking or smuggling, or begging, can be in danger.

In this context, the following questions are specifically addressed:

Instruments presented above are distinct for unaccompanied foreign minors and unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations. Unaccompanied EU minors aren't considered as unaccompanied foreign minors (called M.E.N.A.) and don't benefit from the guardianship system and specific residence status foreseen for unaccompanied foreign minors. Circular of 2 August 2007 provides only for the temporary care of unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations who aren't registered in one of the population registers. Unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations are to be reported to the Service reporting unaccompanied European minors in vulnerable situations (called SMEV) and the Immigration Office. Once identified as unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations, they don't fall under the responsibility of the Guardianship Service. As for other Belgian minors, a civil or public centre for social welfare guardianship can be organized for them but the procedure is not targeted to them/to their specific needs. c. It appears that Laws, Royal Decrees and Circulars provide for admission/residence and guardianship for unaccompanied foreign minors while only a Circular provides for the temporary care of unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations who are not registered in one of the population registers. The Constitutional Court has mentioned that there is a need to insert specific provisions for unaccompanied EU minors in vulnerable situations in Belgian law. d. Unfortunately English versions / translations aren't available. 2. Belgian authorities come across unaccompanied minors in vulnerable situations who are nationals from countries of the European Economic Area (EEA), for example young Roma. As explained above, such minors aren't considered as unaccompanied foreign minors (M.E.N.A.) and don't benefit from the guardianship and specific residence status provided for this latter group in the Belgian law. This raises a series of practical difficulties (assignment of civil guardian, support etc.) as well as legal issues (in the light of Article 2 of the Convention on the Rights of the Child for example by which State Parties shall respect and ensure the rights set forth in the Convention to each child within their

Any legally competent, suitable and consenting person who is able to perform the required duties correctly while taking the child's interests into account may be appointed as a representative. 			Order of the President of the Council of Ministers no. 3933 of 13 April 2011 Decree of the President of the Council of Ministers – Delegate Commissioner no. 2436 of 18 May 2011. 2. Since the Central Directorate for Immigration and Asylum Policies of the Ministry of Labour has no authority on EU unaccompanied minors, and in consideration of the high number of Romanian minors in the Italian territory (either unaccompanied or in vulnerable situations) on June 9, 2008 a bilateral agreement between Romania and Italy was finalized and signed, on the cooperation for the protection of Romanian minors, either unaccompanied or in vulnerable situations, living in Italy. This agreement, which was created based on the provisions of the Convention on the Rights of the Child, adopted by the UN General Assembly of 20 November 1989, as well as on the Directive 2004/38/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 29 April 2004 ‘on the right of citizens of the Union and their family members to move and reside freely within the territory of the Member States’, foresees that the Parties collaborate in order to improve the conditions of Romanian unaccompanied minors or in vulnerable conditions in the territory of the Italian Republic, and to prevent such situations. Article 1 of this agreement states that: “ (...) for unaccompanied minor, we intend a Romanian citizen minor of age (i.e. below 18 years of age) who entered in Italy without his/her parents, legal guardian or legal representative, according to the Romanian law. Provisions of this agreement refer also to minors who find themselves in this situation after entering the Italian territory, as well as those Romanian minors who are not receiving assistance by their parents, legal guardian or appointed legal representative due to carelessness or gross negligence, detected and evaluated as such by the competent Italian authority when a risk situation manifests itself so as to jeopardize the minors’ physical, psychological moral or social development.” The Agreement aims at identifying unaccompanied Romanian minors present in the territory of the Italian Republic, adopting the necessary measures of protection and social reintegration, and facilitating their return to Romania. To implement this Agreement, a Central Joint Committee for the protection of EU unaccompanied minors has been established at the Ministry of Interior. This Committee, by means of certain procedures agreed upon with all the Italian institutions involved, has the duty to receive the information about the identification of the minor and to contact the Romanian authorities, both in Italy and in Romania, to inform them of the presence of the minor and the possible need of further steps for a positive identification. If, after the medical examinations and/or the investigation carried out in Italy, the subject is found not to be of minor age, the Central Joint Committee is no longer responsible for him/her and the procedures become those relating to adults. If, after the investigation carried out by the Romanian authorities, it is evident that the minor is not Romanian, the

There are problems with establishing the exact number of unaccompanied minors residing in Poland and without this information it is difficult to develop more tailored solutions. There is need for specialised facilities for unaccompanied foreign minors and more specialised trainings for people working with such children. 3. No changes are planned in this field.
